

November 30, 2017
Tokyo International Air Terminal Corp.
Japan Airport Terminal Co., Ltd.

TIAT and JATC to Exhibit at EcoPro 2017

— Haneda Airport’s Quest for Environmentally Friendly Operations: Embark on a Journey of Discovery of an Eco Airport with Six Environmental Warriors —

Tokyo International Air Terminal Corp. and Japan Airport Terminal Co., Ltd. will present a booth at EcoPro 2017 – International Exhibition on Environment and Energy – at Tokyo Big Sight over three days from Thursday, December 7 to Saturday, December 9.

Haneda Airport undertakes a variety of initiatives in its aim to become an environmentally-friendly “Eco Airport.” Visitors to the TIAT/JATC booth will be able to learn in more detail about the airport’s environmental activities.

The booth this year will feature hands-on exhibits that adults and children alike will be able to enjoy as they learn. Environmental initiatives can be a difficult topic to understand, so “environmental warrior” characters will offer simple commentary to make the topic more accessible. Visitors to the booth will become “adventurers” with the quest to become “environmental warriors” who protect the Earth. As they search for Haneda airport’s environmental initiatives, these adventurers will be assisted by six “eco-warrior characters” – Sun, Light, Water, Heat, Green, and Bio. At the end of their quest, visitors will answer a quiz to win a small prize. The booth will also hand out Eco Action Cards, which feature things that families can do at home to protect the environment.

We hope many people will come to the booth and encounter Haneda Airport’s environmental initiatives.

The Six Eco-Warriors

SUN

LIGHT

WATER

HEAT

GREEN

BIO

ECO ACTION CARDS

Inquiries (9:00–17:30 weekdays):
Japan Airport Terminal Co., Ltd. (Public Relations Div.)
Tokyo International Air Terminal Corporation (Corporate Planning)

Tel: (03) 5757 8030
Tel: (03) 6428 5901