From February 13, Japan Duty Free Fa-So-La Isetan Mitsukoshi Co., LTD* will start offering a number of new brands at Japan Duty Free GINZA, its downtown airport-style duty-free store on the 8th floor of the Ginza Mitsukoshi department store.

The seven new brands will include the luxury brands, TASAKI and Max Mara, as well as more accessible fashion brands. Travelers will now be able to enjoy even more fulfilling shopping at Japan Duty Free GINZA before departing for overseas.

Japan Duty Free GINZA opened in January 2016 as the first downtown airport-style duty-free store in Japan outside Okinawa. Like airport duty free stores, purchases at the Ginza store are exempt not only from consumption tax, but also customs duties, alcohol excise tax, and the cigarette tax. Because purchases are picked up at the airport of departure (Haneda or Narita), shoppers can enjoy a leisurely, hands-free duty-free shopping experience in Ginza.
